

MiM Quotes 3-15-10 to 4-14-10

-Although I dreaded having to do this course, I must say that I really learned a lot! I've never been very involved in our finances and am feeling charged up and better educated. Going forward will take a much stronger interest and participation in all of our financial choices! This truly was very helpful. I'm also glad that you gave the option to revisit this course at anytime as I was hoping to obtain a book to look back on. Thank you.

-Wow. This course really taught me something about finances that I never thought about previously. I loved the Excel spreadsheets and the goal cards especially. Thank you for your easy to follow instructions on how to build a successful financial future.

-Very good course! It made me rethink a lot about my spending habits and budgeting my money. The course made me realize the importance of setting aside money each paycheck into a savings account. I told my 18 year old son about this class and told him this class should be taught high school seniors. Very educational. Thank you.

-All in all I found the course very helpful. I actually enjoyed listening to the recorded version better than reading. And also found the way that the subject was address to be inspiring and not condescending like I anticipated. There is already a certain amount of guilt and shame that goes along with not being good at managing personal finance. I feel much better after this course. Thank you.

-WOW what you think you know is not always what you know! Thank you so much for increasing my knowledge on finances and what they really consist of.

-This was a terrific course. I am amazed at how much I did not know before taking it. I am very pleased that I will continue to have access to this information. My intention is to set up a filing system that is similar to the one shown in the course. As well, I have set financial goals that I believe are within reason. I will also be keeping a monthly hard copy of my budget so that I may refer back when it seems I am starting to get out of check with my finances. I have already started on a savings account and will continue to put money in each pay period. Terrific course and it should be a requirement for all who wish to apply for a loan or credit card for the first time.

-This course is well designed, easy to follow and a good learning and/or review experience. Thank you.

-I have read & studied many articles & books about budgets & money management, but your presentation is superior. You cover the main concepts of everyday finances in a comprehensive & crystal clear manner. I wish that such a form of education was made more available to people @ an earlier age, like 9th grade in high school. I wish that I was aware of such top notch, objective information, which was so up to date, before I began major purchases such as cars & my house. I will apply what you have taught me, & I intend to check in on your web site to continue to learn about finances & rebuilding credit. I will also pass on your information to my children & their friends, & anybody else I know. Well done & thank you! Warm regards.

-I feel that this course has been very helpful for me to start from scratch to start rebuilding my credit. I found the information provided on using a budget and setting goals will be easier to put into effect than I thought. I also appreciate the fact that I can return to this website for additional information and help with financial matters.

-Thank you! I am delighted to say this course was most informative. I learned quite a few valuable tools and attitudes. This course helped me to take a much different point of view toward my money and debt. I especially like that you started it out with goals and what a goal means to us as humans. The realization that goals, when broken down into manageable pieces, are achievable and in fact necessary for a fulfilling life, well, that's pretty cool! Nice work!

-I was pleasantly surprised! This is a valuable course and should be offered/mandatory for high school credit/graduation. Should be required by all lenders before client agrees to credit cards, loans, etc. The part that really helped me was the "leaking expenses" and the suggestion to track ALL expenses including coffee, movies as well as rent and medicine. Thank you for making this available online again.

-Thank you for providing this course online. I thought I knew all I needed to know about budgeting but the information was very useful and informative! As I start life anew amidst a Chapter 13, I'm looking forward to implementing the new tools I've been taught in your course. I'm forever grateful. Sincerely!

-My education as a female in the 1960's and 1970's held beliefs that girls did not need to know information such as this and now I feel so empowered and I want to teach my daughter all I have learned. Thank you.

trouble that I am in today. I loved this course! Thanks for 'making' me take this course!!

-Thank you for the course. While I thought I would know much of what was presented, it turned out I was wrong. I used the audio presentation as I am legally blind, and was thrilled it was clear and easy to understand. Will definitely be back to review what I learned as I am sure there will be questions that pop up down the road.

-To whom it may concern; this was extremely educational. It reminded me of all the things I should have done. Thank you.

-I thought the course contained excellent information and I plan on passing much of it on to my grandchildren. I worked in a bank for 35 years of my life and due to being diagnosed with Hodgkin's, I was forced to quit two part time jobs that I really enjoyed, and filing Chapter 7. It broke my heart to have to do this, but the medical expenses are out of control. Thank you!

-As an individual who is trying to survive a financial nightmare I found the program extremely helpful. I have been out of work for a year but when the job market does turn around I am now more prepared to handle my finances in a more productive manner. My thanks to your organization for a great program. And thanks again for your guidance.

-I was surprised that the course really made me stop and think about the financial choices I have made in my life. I plan to make better financial choices in the future. I want to thank everyone that is responsible in some way for making this course available to me.

-Thanks, this was an excellent course! Too bad something like this isn't required for all students before they graduate from high school. Or at least be a requirement for couples to attend together before getting married. It might save a lot of people from financial disaster!

-This class has really opened my eyes to things that I should have already known. I have a 16 yr old son and I am definitely going to share what I have learned with him so that he can have some insight on what and what not to do when he leaves for school. I am truly going to use all of the tools I learned in this session!

-Although I did not look forward to taking this course, I learned a great deal about myself and the goals I set for the future. I read everything carefully, and even reread some portions. I wish I had known and understood some items before my present situation. Thank you for helping to educate me.

-I think there should be an option where joint filers can do the on-line course at the same time, where it would have applicant and spouse columns for an answer. This way you can see how you both answer the question, to see if you're both on the same page or who needs to work in that area. I was told that you did the course at the same time, so we finally were able to do it at the same time but come to find out, we had to do it separately which wasted a lot of time that could have been planned better.

-This is the second time in 10 years I have been in bankruptcy. The first time I was young, newly married, and generally inexperienced. I allowed myself to be taken in by credit card offers and just got over my head. This time is based more on the poor economy. I owned my own small business and experienced higher costs of operation at the same time that I was seeing a loss of revenue. I mistakenly stuck with it longer than I should have hoping that things would get better. I just dug a deeper hole of debt every day. I think that had there been requirements for this course the first time I filed bankruptcy I may have been able to control my latest situation a little better. Regardless, I have learned both from the experience of getting into financial trouble and from this course that a well-laid budget is going to be the key to my financial future. Thank you.

-great set up for learning about money.

-I really enjoyed this course. I learned things that I believe will be very helpful to me now and in the future. Thank you very much.

-I found the print to be too small. (Yes, I'm 45 and wear glasses.) The in-depth stories of Jake and others was WAY more information than I needed to get the point across. Chapter 1 GOALS? Really? I'm filing for BANKRUPTCY! A stereo? Not on my list. :) Thanks for the effort. After this class, I will NEVER be in this situation again!

-I don't understand the 120 minute thing. I finished going through the materials in 83 minutes. Some folks are going to get through this info more quickly than others depending on their reading speed and their current level of financial knowledge.

- This course really did not go beyond the basics. I feel that people that have some experience with money and ended up in bankruptcy mid-life have different needs than what this basic course offers. For instance, the psychology/attitudes about money and saving and tips on making changes would be more helpful to us. I basically knew all the info already.

-Reading all chapters, I feel that there were excellent points on how to save and budget your money, and people to contact when there's someone trying to scam you or take your money, most of all, spending money on the necessities and saving money when you don't have to spend it on items you really don't need.

-Very informative and helpful course. You should teach this course in high school and college

-I filed Chapter 7 and lease a car which will be surrendered at end of lease in one year. What are my options in obtaining another car, preferably used?

-I was surprised that many of my own preconceived notions about having a "budget" were so off-base. My parents have been telling me the benefits for years...I now wish I'd been smart enough to actually give it an honest try. Attaching the goals to the budget makes so much sense. My wife and I will be sitting down and re-doing our household budget to see where we really are instead of where we make ourselves appear to be. Thanks for the info...it really did help.

-In dealing with these economical times, it has been hard for me to adjust in the changes in my life and lifestyle. I have been self employed since 1976 - a single self supporting '60' year old woman in real estate. I cannot get any assistance do not qualify for unemployment and have no family locally to help me. I went 6 months in real estate making only $900 earlier last year. I invested my retirement in 2004/2005 in a new company with the Hilton family and thanks to them wanting to change contract I lost everything it took me 30 years to make. Am filing Chapter 7 and now have no car as my lease was up end of Nov and I kept car anyway until the beginning of Feb. Broker since 1976 now career without a car? Note, alternatives to people whom are self employed in reinventing their life and credit would be nice. Life after Bankruptcy? The expenses I even listed on my financial plan do not cover all my business. To make a long story short - how do you make a monthly budget when you are in real estate based on commission sales only? As I said $900 in 6 months. Sad.

We have been separate on most financial decisions for our entire marriage and are trying to make decisions as a team now. We think this is the key to avoid financial problems in the future. This course feels like we have been split. We did go over the information together but each took the quizzes and our own final test individually. -Great course! But what the credit companies / agencies do is a crime. How can someone with a 580 fico score pay 18% and 780 fico score pay 5% on a loan. That person will always be behind. -thanks and have a great day

-A little too long -- and both husband and wife should take at same time.

-I know that it is not necessarily your requirement - but I feel that having to spend 120 minutes is rather excessive - especially if you are a fast reader and a quick learner. -Thanks

-It would be helpful to understand how to correctly figure out a monthly budget when you get paid every two weeks. You can't take your yearly income and divided by 12, because that is not really what you bring in monthly. Is there a correct way to do this?
